TALKING MAIL BOX STARTLES SHOPPERS HERE

Answers Questions
Concerning Air
Mail Service

FLY TOMORROW

Chicago, May 18.—(P)—One hundred seventy-seven airplanes, 51 of them out of Chicago, will visit 200 cities and towns in Illinois tomorrow as part of the national air mail week observance.

Air mail will be carried wherever possible and landings will be made in farm pastures, parks and playgrounds at points having no port facilities.

Pedestrians at the southeast corner of Court and Schuyler avenues this noon were somewhat startled when a mail box suddenly started talking to them. It chattered away all afternoon and will remain open Thursday morning as a reminder to citizens to post their air mail letters in time for tomorrow's flights from the Kankakee airport.

The anticipated volume of air mail to be sent from Kankakee tomorrow is now so great that an extra flight will be made to Chicago at 10 a. m. Z. L. Duchene, chairman of the local air mail week committee, announced this morning.

Postal employees distributed 3,500 air mail envelopes and the novelty stores here have twice sold out their stock (4,500), making a total of 8,000 envelopes already taken for the first air mail flight in Kankakee's history. The local postoffice's supply of 2,000 special air mail stamps was exhausted in two days. Any letter, however, can be sent on these planes tomorrow simply by

Hoennicke Takes Case in Advisement

A suit for $280 damages as a result of an auto-tractor crash last April 1 was taken under advisement by Police Magistrate Edward Hoennicke following conclusion of testimony in his court late yesterday.

Vern Monroe of Clifton, represented by Attorney Victor Lauridsen sought to collect from Lawrence Boone and his son Adrian, farmers residing on Bourbonnais route 1, for damages caused when Monroe's auto ran into a trailer pulled by a tractor driven by Adrian on highway 45 near the curve west of town.

The plaintiff had Thomas Chandler of Chenease as a witness to attempt to prove that the accident happened about 7 p. m. and that the trailer had no lights on it.

The Boones, represented by Attorney T. R. Johnston, introduced evidence to show that the crash occurred in daylight about 6:10 p. m. through a telephone call to the Boone's neighbor, John Cole, who had to shut off a certain radio program to answer the phone.

Two Sets of Brothers And Sisters Announce Weddings

London, May 18.—(P)—A music-minded cupid has scored the best bull's-eye of many seasons in the midst of two sets of brothers and sisters, the artistic Menuhins and the wealthy Australian Nicholases.

It was announced today that Hephzibah Menuhin, 17-year-old sister and constant accompanist of the stolid and gifted violinist, would wed the brother of Yehudi's betrothed.

In the second brother-sister set are Lindsay and Nola, children of the aspirin millionaire, G. R. Nicholas of Melbourne, Australia.

Making a clean sweep of the Menuhins, it was announced that Yaltah, 16 and Yehudi's second sister, was engaged to William Stix of St. Louis and Washington.

Both Yaltah and Hephzibah are expected to be married in the United States, but Yehudi and Nola will wed in London this month.

The Yehudi and Hephzibah romances began in the same way.

Jurors Still Out; $10,750 Damage Suit

A suit for $10,750, by the First National bank of Huntington, W. Va., against Robert Erditz of Kankakee, began this morning before Circuit Judge W. R. Hunter and a jury.

The bank, represented by Attorney Donald Gray, claims that the Kankakee bank is indebted to it for the amount sued for as the result of notes drawn in 1931.

Erditz, represented by Attorney Harry S. Streeter, contends that the alleged debt has been more than satisfied by the turning over to the bank of collateral for the notes.

A jury which heard a $10,750 damage suit on Monday and Tuesday was still in session this morning and the sounds of loud argument were heard from the jury room.

The jurors took the case at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon and worked on it until 11 o'clock last night when Bailiff Harry Couture sent them to bed.

The suit is by Mrs. Walborg Hansen of Chicago against Robert Porter of Chenease and is the result of an automobile accident last Aug. 1 near Manteno in which Mrs. Hansen's husband was fatally injured.

Mate Hurls Coffee Pot So Wife Sues

Mrs. Lucille Savarino of Kankakee today sued her husband James for divorce.

Mrs. Savarino, represented by Attorney Victor Lauridsen, charges her husband with extreme and repeated cruelty, alleging that on Dec. 18, 1935 he threw a coffee pot at her.

She does not ask custody of their five-year old son James Michael, now with his father.

MANSLAUGHTER TRIAL IS OPENED AT PEKIN, ILL.

Youthful Defendant to Repudiate Unsigned Statement

SELECTING JURY

By DON HYNDMAN
Pekin, Ill., May 18.—(P)—A renewed defense motion for delay of youthful James Crab's trial on a manslaughter charge was summarily denied today, as frequent clashes of counsel enlivened the opening procedure of jury selection.

Circuit Judge Joseph E. Daily then took under advisement the defense's plea that remarks made yesterday in court by Special Prosecutor John E. Cassidy of Peoria be expunged from the record. This motion contained the remarks, which were not cited specifically, were "prejudicial" to the 22 year old defendant, charged with the slaying of his 19 year old bride of five weeks.

Lawyers Clash Repeatedly
Son of a Delavan, Ill., banker, young Crab sat at counsel table and listened attentively today as his two lawyers clashed repeatedly with Prosecutor Cassidy during the early questioning of prospective jurors.

When Cassidy sought to outline the case to the venire, Defense Attorney J. M. Powers and W. J. Wierman interrupted repeatedly with objections his statements were "improper" and "propaganda."

One such objection was made when Cassidy mentioned that Crab's father, Willis, 31, is president of a bank. Judge Daily sustained Powers' objection that this was "improper at this time and intended to inspire prejudice."

With indications the jury selection would require at least two days and probably the remainder of the week, the state quickly excused the first two veniremen called. They were Walter Conner of Pekin, formerly Big Ten football official who said he knew the Crab family socially, and Walter Davis, Tremont poultry dealer, who said he had formed an opinion about the case.

The state tentatively accepted the third venireman, Henry Aberie, 31, of Morton, a machinist.

At the noon recess, the state tentatively completed its first panel of four, others being John Schaefer, South Pekin farmer; Oram Aupperle, 28, farmer of Morton, and Gerhardt Janssen, Pekin coal company employee. Defense counsel then began a lengthy examination of Aberie.

Before completing the panel of four, the state peremptorily challenged William Callender, East Peoria tavern operator, and dismissed for cause Peter Bloompot, Pekin.

Inquest Jury Says Momence Packer's Death Accidental

A verdict of accidental death was returned yesterday afternoon by Coroner A. E. Keger's inquest jury which investigated the death May 2 of Frederick Jasper Doyle, 24, of Momence as the result of an automobile accident.

Doyle, a packer of canned dog food at Momence, died in St. Mary hospital when infection set in following the amputation of his left arm.

His shoulder was mangled the morning of April 28 when his automobile and a truck of Gleason Knight of Danville, driven by Louis Pierce, also of Danville, sideswiped on the Dixie highway just south of the wye.

At that time Doyle was bound for Momence on the way from Danville while the truck was headed for Danville returning from Chicago.

Witnesses at the inquest were Dr. John J. Horowitz, one of the physicians who attended Doyle; B. W. Doyle of Momence, father of the deceased; Earl E. Cromwell and Frederick Veyrelin, both of Momence; and the truck driver.

British Freighter Lost in Mid-Ocean

London, May 18.—(P)—Admiralty and air ministry officials are considering as a "matter of urgency" a sea and air search for traces of the British freighter Anglo-Australian mysteriously lost in mid-Atlantic two months ago with its crew of 39.

J. Chuter Ede, member of parliament for the district in which most of the crew lived, said today he had received this assurance from the government.

Shipping circles were inclined to doubt the suggestion advanced in some quarters that the vessel was the victim of warships engaged in the Spanish civil war.

The Anglo-Australian was last reported off Fayal, Azores, March 14.

Burglar Shot to Death at Joliet

Joliet, Ill., May 18.—(P)—Anthony Nosse, 22, was shot and killed by police last night when he resisted arrest after burglarizing a filling station.

Nosse had served one term at the Vandalla state penal farm and two terms at the boys' school at St. Charles.

Called to the scene by an anonymous woman's telephone call, a squad car containing Clark and Detective Thomas Kwarta, called Frank Skul found a shadowy figure upon to surrender, a gleam of metal as if from a gun, was noted, Clark said, and all three fired.

Nosse was unarmed and the gleam came from a nickel-plated flashlight, which with a box of pencils, the officers said, comprised the loot. He was dead when received at the hospital.

Jacob Terlip, arrested later, admitted having been with Nosse, the police chief said.

LIFE-OR-DEATH MEDICAL JURY TO ACT TODAY

Baby Helaine Judith Colan May Lose Right Eye Also

IS CANCEROUS

Chicago, May 18.—(UP)—Baby Helaine Judith Colan, whose cancerous left eye was removed last week, also may lose her right eye, an attorney for the family indicated today as a life-or-death medical jury of 19 was summoned to decide what is to be done.

Attorney Samuel A. Hoffman, official spokesman for the parents of the seven-week-old baby, said that in his opinion the eye must be removed.

He based the opinion, he said, on a report that one-third of the right eye "still has cancerous fibres."

"I have already told the mother so," Hoffman asserted, "and if the medical experts decide to operate, the operation probably will be performed tomorrow."

Medical men had said that if the retinal glioma—a malignant growth that destroys the sight-giving tissues—was not checked it would kill Baby Helaine when it reached her brain.

Less than an hour after a jury of 10 specialists decided to operate, Helaine's sightless left eye was removed at Garfield Park community hospital May 9.

The jury was appointed to relieve the parents, Dr. and Mrs. Herman Colan, of the responsibility of making the "life-or-death" decision.

The left eye and part of its optic nerve were studied under a microscope for nine days by Dr. E. V. L. Brown, eye specialist at Billings hospital and one of the original jury, who made a report to Dr. Robert H. Good, operating physician.

The report will be presented today to a joint council of 11 eye specialists and eight radiologists who will make a final decision on Helaine's fate.

Confere Late Today
The radiologists, headed by Dr. Henri Coutard, famous French cancer expert, had suggested supervoltage X-ray treatments in an effort to save the sight of the right eye.

Hoffman said that Dr. Simon H. Soboroff, famed eye specialist, had agreed to serve on the original jury of 10 headed by Dr. Irving S. Cutler, dean of the Northwestern university medical school.

He said the baby's mother, Estelle Colan, 23, the father, a 30-year-old dentist, and the grandparents, Dr. and Mrs. Morris L. Hersman, would attend the conference at 4 p. m. today when the medical experts decide between eternal blindness or death for Helaine.

Pennsylvania is Back in the GOP Fold; Primaries

Philadelphia, May 18.—(P)—Returns in Pennsylvania's primary:

Democratic U. S. senator—(7,330 districts)—Earle, 714,663; Wilson, 294,617.

Democratic governor—(7,359 districts)—Jones, 553,261; Kennedy, 458,129; Margiotti, 155,956.

Republican U. S. senator—(7,258 districts)—Davis, 737,633; Owlett, 422,141.

Republican governor—(7,295 districts)—James, 689,900; Pinchot, 463,688.

Philadelphia, May 18.—(P)—Candidates endorsed by C. I. O. Chief John L. Lewis and Senator Joseph P. Guffey were routed in Pennsylvania primary balloting that gave a sweeping triumph to the Democratic state committee and brought Republican predictions today of victory in November.

The primary eve blessing of Democratic National Chairman James A. Farley did not save Thomas Kennedy, Lewis-Guffey gubernatorial candidate, from trailing Charles Alvin Jones, by more than $5,000 votes with less than 1,000 of the state's 8,075 precincts unreported.

Vastly more crushing was the victory margin of Governor George K. Earle, the state committee-endorsed U. S. senate candidate, over Mayor S. Davis Wilson, who turned non-partisan, then Democrat, after having been elected mayor as a Republican.

Republicans, hailing a landslide triumph by Judge Arthur H. James over former Governor Gifford Pinchot, whom James had assailed as a "half New Dealer," echoed the cry of Representative Martin (R-Mass) who said at Washington:

"The November parade started yesterday. . . . Pennsylvania is back in the Republican fold!"

The 72-year-old Pinchot, replying wearily to queries, reiterated: "I have said forty times at least I would support whomever won the Republican nomination."

Expect 45% PWA Cash for County Farm

A formal request to PWA authority for a grant of money to assist in the construction of a new unit of the county home was drafted in yesterday's special session of the county board.

When a committee of the board consulted PWA officers in Chicago last week, the supervisors were advised that a grant of 45 per cent of the cost would be possible, and the opinion was expressed that governmental approval could be given in 30 days.

Accordingly, the board yesterday asked for 45 per cent of the estimated cost of $30,000. The county will furnish the remainder.

The board also approved resolutions for the expenditure of gas tax money for two stretches of roadway in the county, one of 2,500 feet through the village of Essex and another of 2,500 feet some of which is to be within Aroma Park and some approaching it. In both cases the roadways are to be of black-top construction.

He reached the crash scene in brush-covered, low-sloping hills about 5:30 a. m. (8:30 a. m. est), having

Mint Canyon Rancher Makes a Gruesome Discovery

ROUGH SIERRA

Los Angeles, May 18.—(P)—The charred wreckage of a luxury airliner and the bodies of its nine occupants were found today on a mountainside 20 miles north of Saugus.

Observers said an explosion and fire followed the crash of the new plane soon after its takeoff here Monday afternoon on its delivery flight to St. Paul.

Ambulance crews took five bodies from the blackened and twisted wreckage, some of them burned beyond recognition. Four bodies were thrown clear.

The crash was unexpected. The pilot had not cut the motor switches, and this indicated the crash was wholly unexpected. The gasoline tanks exploded.

The giant ship cut a path through 400 yards of shrubs, timbers and yucca. Stems along this path were four bodies, parts of the plane and personal effects of the occupants. One of the twin motors tore loose and rolled 150 yards down the mountainside. One propeller was torn off. The fuselage was shredded, apparently by the explosion.

The crash occurred only 30 miles from Union air terminal in Burbank, from where the delivery flight started.

The discovery was made by Walter Peterson 20 miles north of Saugus and 1½ miles off the Mint Canyon highway in rugged area where a two day search, hampered by fog, had been in progress.

Officials estimated it would take several hours to reach the wreckage and they expected difficulty in bringing the bodies out of the rough Sierra Pelona region which Peterson described as the scene of the tragic end of a short-cut taken by the liner that had yet to be delivered into-transit service.

Air search yesterday was halted by a fog that still cloaked the mountain peaks of the region this morning as Peterson came in with his report.

Peterson said the plane "was all burned up." He peered inside the cabin, he said, and counted seven bodies. The two child passengers escaped his notice.

He reached the crash scene in brush-covered, low-sloping hills about 5:30 a. m. (8:30 a. m. est), having

Huge Throng Expected At Annual Congress in Honor Of Blessed Virgin Mary

Boulogne-sur-Mer, France, May 18.—(AP)—The fourth annual congress in honor of the Blessed Virgin Mary is expected to attract between 300,000 and 400,000 to Boulogne during the third week of July.

elated arrangements are already being made to house and feed the hordes of visitors from Britain, America, Ireland, Belgium, Holland and all corners of the world. Special liners are bringing contingents from Canada and South America. Twelve thousand young girls are coming from Paris alone. Boulogne cannot possibly house all the visitors and arrangements are being made with neighboring seacoast resorts to accommodate the overflow. All local schools are being turned into dormitories by the installation of bunks.

Church Leaders to Attend
The name of the Cardinal-legate who will preside at the congress will be made known by the Pope shortly before it begins. All the French cardinals, fifty archbishops, bishops and mitred abbots, in addition to churchmen from many other countries, will be present.

The date of the congress coincides with the third centenary of the vow taken by King Louis XIII dedicating France to the Virgin Mary and the thirteenth centenary of the arrival of the statue of Notre-Dame de Boulogne in a crewless vessel, according to fable.

The congress will open on July 21 with a procession of 80,000 children and will end with pontifical high mass at the municipal stadium on July 24.

Senators Support Proposal For Utilities Cooperation

Washington, May 18.—(AP)—A proposal for cooperation between the government and the utilities to create thousands of new jobs in the private power industry won substantial support today in the senate.

The suggestion was advanced by Chairman Phillip H. Gadsden of the committee of utility executives. Gadsden, testifying yesterday before a senate appropriations subcommittee, asserted the administration's $3,154,000,000 relief and public works bill would permit the PWA to spend "hundreds of millions of dollars" to duplicate existing private utility systems.

Asking the government to "set boundaries on its policy of duplication," Gadsden added that "bitterness and old wounds" should be forgotten so that the private power industry can become "a mighty machine for creating jobs and spreading social benefits to all the people."

Chairman Adams (D-Colo) of the appropriations subcommittee told reporters he thought some limitation could be written into the relief bill which would "prevent private capital from being destroyed without hamstringing the government program of utility construction."

It might be possible, Adams said to impose a restriction that the government could not finance new utility construction where private plants are rendering an adequate, equitable and efficient service.

Gadsden objected especially to a provision of the house-approved relief bill which would permit the PWA to build power projects and lease them to municipalities. Under this arrangement, the municipalities would pay back 55 per cent of the cost of the projects, plus interest, over a 25-year period.

Adams said Gadsden perhaps had "exaggerated the danger of this particular section" because few communities would be likely to take advantage of it.

Several members of a bloc of Republicans and anti-administration Democrats seeking changes in the relief measure said they would oppose the leasing provision and would seek to impose restrictions on government duplication of private power facilities.

The appropriations subcommittee arranged to end closed hearings on the spending-lending measure today. Committee members said the bill would reach the senate floor either late this week or Monday.

Other congressional developments: President Roosevelt signed into law the billion-dollar naval expansion program.

The senate approved a bill designed to prevent block-booking and blind-selling in the motion picture industry. Senator Neely (D-WVa) said it would give exhibitors greater
